

March 15, 2016

To Whom It May Concern:

Robert Kaplinsky's one day workshop "Problem Based Learning and Lessons" at the Monterey County Office of Education in March 2016 was one of the highlights of the year.

In terms of scheduling, planning and preparing for the day, Robert was understanding, flexible, and willing to meet our needs. We had some scheduling and registration challenges in the beginning, and Robert was willing to listen and support in any way possible. Additionally he is an outstanding communicator and responds promptly and concisely whether by phone, email, or Twitter.

The workshop itself was extremely well received, and the best way I can share its success is from the participants themselves (middle and high school teachers from districts across Monterey county). Here's some of the feedback we received:

"This is one of the best workshops I have attended in over ten years"

"Very useful and relevant workshop that addresses Common Core Standards in a way that an K-8 teacher can understand and implement immediately into our classrooms!"

"This workshop was an excellent use of my time. My colleague implemented things the day after we returned!"

"Robert is such a professional, his presentation was perfect. I would attend more of these types of workshops."

I look forward to what else Robert has in store as I'm confident his future work and workshops will be engaging, inspirational, and informative.

Sincerely,

Denise Green
